

Casuarina cunninghamiana (River She Oak)

Description

Large tree with leaves that are reduced to rings of tiny teeth on specialised branchlets.

Height

40m

Habitat

Found in pure stands along the banks of the Nepean and Hawkesbury Rivers, with roots close to the water.

Flowering

Winter - Spring

Flowers

Red

Landscape Use

Erosion control, revegetation, screening. Low maintenance, drought tolerant. Freshwater species.

