

Lomandra longifolia (Spiny-headed Mat Rush)

Description

A tough plant forming dense tussocks of thick leaves. The inflorescence is large with spiny bracts at the base of each flower.

Height

1m

Habitat

Many situations including sand dunes, exposed lateritic ridges, open forest, creek banks and more open areas of rainforest.

Flowering

August – December

Growing Season

Warm season

Flowers

Yellow flower clusters

Landscape Use

Revegetation, roadsides.
Excellent weed suppressor.

